NO MORE DISTRESS FROM THE STOMACH.

Dyspepsia, Gas, Indigestion and Sourness Vanish and You Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

Every family here ought to keep some Dispepsin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of indigestion or stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach five minutes afterward. If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you or lay like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Dispepsin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Dispepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at any drug store, waiting for you. These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to cure almost any chronic case of dyspepsia, indigestion or any other stomach trouble.

Accept only Dispepsin—any drug store anywhere in the world.

HIS LAST MESSAGE

Article by Count Tolstoi Against Capital Punishment.

WEEK BEFORE HIS DEATH

Written in Optima Monastery After Beginning Self-Imposed Exile.

WOULD EDUCATE HANGMAN

Advocates Knowledge as the Effective Means for Abolishing Murder on the Gallows.

ST. PETERSBURG, November 26.—The Associated Press received early this morning from Vladimir Tschertkoff, literary agent of the late Count Leo Tolstoi, the last article written by Tolstoi. It is entitled "Effective Means," and was written by Tolstoi in the Optima Monastery November 11, shortly after he began his self-imposed exile from home. The article was given the Associated Press by M. Tschertkoff at the express wish of Count Tolstoi for dissemination to mankind. It says:

"I am naturally anxious to do all I can against evil, which tortures the best spirits of our time.

"I think the present effective way against capital punishment does not need forcing; there is no need for an expression of indignation against its immorality, cruelty and absurdity; every sincere thinking person, everybody knowing the sixth commandment, needs no explanation of its absurdity and immorality; there is no need for descriptions of the horrors of executions, as they only affect hangmen, so men will more unwillingly become executioners and criminals will be obliged to compensate them more dearly for their services.

"Therefore, I think that neither the expression of indignation against the murder of our fellow-men nor the suggestion of its horror is mainly needed, out something totally different.

"As Kant well says, there are delusions which cannot be disproved, and we must communicate to the deluded mind knowledge which will enlighten, and then the delusions will vanish by themselves.

"What knowledge needs to be communicated to the deluded mind regarding the indispensability, usefulness or justice of capital punishment in order that said delusion may destroy itself.

"Such knowledge, in my opinion, is this: The knowledge of what is man, what his surrounding world, what his destiny—hence what man can and must do and principally what he cannot and must not do.

"Therefore, we should oppose capital punishment by inculcating this knowledge to all men, especially to hangmen's managers and sympathizers, who wrongfully think they are maintaining the position thanks only to capital punishment.

"I know this is not an easy task. The employers and approvers of hangmen, with their instinct of self-preservation, feel that this knowledge will make impossible the maintenance of the position which they occupy, hence not only will they themselves not adopt it, but by all means in their power—by violence, deceit, lies and threats—they will try to hide from the people this knowledge, distorting it and exposing its disseminators to all kinds of privations and sufferings.

"Therefore, we really wish to destroy the delusion of capital punishment, and if we possess the knowledge which will enlighten the deluded mind, let us, in spite of all menaces, deprivations and sufferings, teach the people this knowledge, because this is solely the effective means in the field.

(Signed), "LEO TOLSTOI."

EARTHQUAKE IS RECORDED; PROBABLY IN FAR EAST

Georgetown Observatory and St. Ignatius College at Cleveland Report Disturbances.

Light earth tremors were recorded this morning at the Georgetown University seismological observatory.

They began at 12:41 o'clock and lasted until 1:10 o'clock. The maximum disturbance occurred between 12:41 and 12:43.

The tremors were recorded on both the vertical and horizontal instruments. The estimated distance from here of the disturbance was 4,000 or 5,000 miles.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, November 26.—Earthquake shocks of more than two hours' duration were recorded by the seismograph at St. Ignatius College last night.

The first began at 11:06:35 p.m., and the main at 11:37:30 p.m., the end coming at 1:22 a.m.

From the duration and velocity of the shocks it was estimated that they took place approximately 12,000 miles distant, probably in Japan, Java or the Philippine Islands.

GEORGE RIDDLE DEAD.

Famous Shakespearean Reader Succumbs to Cerebral Hemorrhage.

BOSTON, November 26.—George Riddle, one of the most widely known Shakespearean readers in the country, died today of cerebral hemorrhage in a local hospital. He was found unconscious on the Tremont street mail of the Common last night. Mr. Riddle, whose home is in Cambridge, has been prominent in the theater for more than a quarter of a century. In 1874 he supported Edwin Booth, who was playing Hamlet, in the theater. Mr. Riddle was graduated from Harvard in the same year that he appeared with Booth, and was the first alumnus of that university to adopt a stage career.

Attend Pure Food Convention.

Dr. F. L. Dunlap of the bureau of chemistry, Department of Agriculture, and George P. McCabe, solicitor of the department, will leave Washington this evening for New Orleans, where Monday they will attend the convention of the state and county dairy and pure food commissioners. Dr. Dunlap will address the convention on co-operation in pure food work between the state and national authorities.

LEXINGTON AFFAIRS

Auto Delivery Truck Smashed by Southern Railway Engine.

HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY

Scott Black Accused of Shooting Albert Brooks—Potomac Lodge Confers Degrees.

Special Correspondence of The Star.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., November 26, 1910. The big automobile delivery truck of the Board-Armstrong Company was early last night struck by a Southern railway engine and wrecked, and fifteen barrels of vinegar, which were on the truck at the time, were dumped out and a number of them ignited. At the company's plant this morning it was stated that the damage to the machine and vinegar would be $4,000.

The engine which struck the automobile was backing down Henry street with a caboose in front. The automobile was backed in front of the company's plant on that street, between Pendleton and Wythe, and the machine had just been cranked by the driver preparatory to starting. A portion of the machine was protruding on the tracks, it is said, when the crash came. Some of the barrels of vinegar were thrown a distance of forty feet. The debris was soon cleared away and the engine proceeded on its journey.

The first, second and third degrees of the order were last night conferred by the degree team of Potomac Lodge of Odd Fellows in the large hall of the Potomac. A delegation of members from Prince William Lodge was in attendance. Following the ceremony a luncheon was served, and during the evening speeches were made by Rev. Edgar Carpenter, Robert S. Barrett, D. Stansbury, Dr. Johnson of Manassas and others.

Lecture at Lyceum Hall.

Rev. John Handley, C. S. P., last evening delivered an interesting lecture on "Isabella," at the Young Men's Sociality Lyceum Hall, under the auspices of Kavanagh Court, Daughters of Isabella. A musical program was given, in which the following participated: Richard Wirt, Mrs. William P. Woods, Miss Julia Hill, E. Forrest Birrell, Miss Salie Patman, Miss Anna M. Smith, and Albert Brooks, colored, in the leg, July 12 last.

Brooks said he and Black had been drinking together prior to the shooting, and he was eating his breakfast when that Brooks had demanded 10 cents of him and threatened to take his life when he shot him.

A fine of $10 was imposed in the case of Edward Smith, colored, charged with stealing a pool ball and also charged with resisting arrest yesterday.

Mrs. Ida May Herbert, forty-four years old, wife of Ernest Herbert, died last night at her home, 608 South Pitt street. She was a native of Washington. The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

There will be a big congregational meeting of the First Baptist Church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. At 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening the pastor, Rev. W. F. Watson, will take for his subject "The Completing Grace."

The German Club last evening gave its first dance of the season at the Elks' Home, which was largely attended, among those present being a number of the club members.

According to the provisions of the will of Sarah J. Adams, admitted to probate in the circuit court yesterday, the testatrix leaves home 429 South Lee street to Eddie Biggs during his life, and upon his death to his wife, Mrs. Thomas Biggs. She leaves personal property to relatives.

Salvation Army Chief IS OVERTAKEN BY DEATH

Mrs. Marion Smalley of the American Organization Succumbs After Brief Illness.

Mrs. Marion Smalley, wife of John Smalley, in charge of the American Salvation Army headquarters, 339 C Street northwest, died at 7 o'clock this morning of a cerebral hemorrhage. Her death was not unexpected, as she had been ill for some time.

Mrs. Smalley was born in London, England, forty-three years ago. Her mother and father were on the stage. For a time Mrs. Smalley was also an actress, but when she became converted she gave up theatricals. She had been married, however, to an actor, and when she refused to give up church work and continue on the stage he left her. A short time later Mrs. Smalley became a mission worker on the streets of London.

While doing this work one night and endeavoring to persuade a young girl to go home with her she stepped around the corner for a few minutes, and when she returned the girl had been cut to pieces by "Jack the Ripper," who was then being sought by the police of London for numerous similar crimes.

The shock so affected her that for the remainder of her life Mrs. Smalley's limbs were partly paralyzed.

Twenty-eight years ago Mrs. Smalley left England and went to Ottawa, Canada, where she was a mission worker. She was a member of the Salvation Army, and did mission work. She returned to London, and after a while took up mission work in Sheffield, England. While she was in Canada her husband died. Five years later she married John Smalley. Mrs. Smalley came to the United States and settled in New London, Conn. She had a church in that city, and for two years was its pastor.

Read New Organization.

On leaving New London Mr. and Mrs. Smalley came to this city and went to the Salvation Army headquarters, where they continued mission work. They later went to Philadelphia and opened a working girls' home, but three years ago they returned to Washington and opened the American Salvation Army Home.

Mrs. Smalley went to Philadelphia last Friday morning, and when she became ill, and her husband went there Saturday. She was brought home last Monday, but her illness resulted in death this morning.

Acceptance of Straus Plant Urged.

While members declared that the milk pasteurization plant established in this city by Nathan Straus, the New York philanthropist, was saving the lives of thousands of babies annually, the association unanimously adopted a resolution calling upon the District or some wealthy charitable institution to accept of Mr. Straus' offer and take over the plant by guaranteeing that the work would be continued. The resolution reads in part: "Whereas Mr. Straus, through his representative, Miss Hurn, is offering to donate his fine pasteurization plant with the understanding that a babies' milk dispensary be continued with it, and whereas the general milk supply of Washington is mostly of doubtful character and even dangerous for children in the summer time, Mr. Straus' offer should be accepted."
